Tēnā koe

This ākonga booklet is a guide for use in assessing against Manaaki Marae - Whāngai Manuhiri unit standard 29568. Further guidance (credit value, authenticity, referencing) is also provided at the back of this booklet.

This resource is designed to help you gather evidence, by outlining tasks you could do to meet the requirements of the unit standard. Please aim to do more than what is required in this booklet, as this should ensure you have covered everything you need to do.

Kia ora rā!

Assessment criteria

Paetae/Achieved

Ākonga that achieve this standard will be able to: prepare equipment and fry kai to present for manuhiri.

The only grades for this unit standard are Paetae/Achieved or Not Achieved.

All tasks must be completed correctly to achieve the unit standard. Once completed, please fill-out an assessment schedule with your kaiako/assessor (they will provide you with one).

You may present evidence for this assessment orally, visually, digitally or in writing. This may include (but is not limited to) 3D images/printings, power point presentations, videos, photos, illustrations, performances, etc. You will need to discuss your presentation method with your kaiako/assessor and any resources you might need.

Integrated assessment

Integrated assessment (where an assessment task (or tasks) allows assessment of several relevant outcomes at the same time) is encouraged. For this reason, tasks conducted in the assessment against this unit standard may also provide some evidence for use with the following unit standards:

Questions?

Your kaiako/assessor will discuss with you the requirements of achieving this unit standard (this may include time allowed to complete assessment, pre-assessment preparation, assessment, post-assessment follow-up, and reassessment (only if needed)). If you have any questions, please ask your kaiako/assessor.

Kia ora, kia kaha, ā, kia eke!

GUIDANCE INFORMATION

It is recommended that you complete Unit 167, Practise food safety methods in a food business under supervision, prior to being assessed against this standard.

It is also recommended that assessment against this unit standard occurs concurrently with assessment against other Manaaki Marae - Whāngai Manuhiri unit standards.

This entry-level unit standard is intended for learners who will carry out activities under close supervision and guidance in a marae context to prepare kai to cook, and cook kai, in an oven.

Manaaki is an ethic of thoughtfulness, generosity and caring for others. Manaaki manuhiri links this ethic directly to Māori well-being, to the marae and the mana of its people. The proverb, 'ka tika ā muri, ka tika ā mua' best describes this significant aspect of the Māori value system, ensuring the front and back of the marae (both of which are interdependent), work together to provide for its guests. It is characterised through the acts of hospitality and demands excellence of the hosts to uphold their mana, the mana of all guests, and (therefore) the mana of the marae itself. The basic principles underpinning manaaki (in a marae context) are common, but while there are some constants, the details of its execution may differ. These differences may be at a rohe, iwi, hapū, whānau, or marae level.

DEFINITIONS

Marae context refers to a context or environment that incorporates the tikanga and kawa of the marae, and must be reflected in the outcome of this unit standard.

Tikanga are cultural practices and procedures exercised by Māori in their daily lives. These practices reflect the concepts upon which they are based and provide guidelines for appropriate behaviour in Māori society. They also prescribe consequences for any breaches or when tikanga is not followed. They can be particular to a rohe, iwi, hapū, whānau, marae, or hapori.

Kawa are the protocols or customs of the marae (and inside the wharenuī); particularly those related to formal activities such as pōwhiri, karanga, whaikōrero, mihi, hākari etc. Kawa can be particular to marae, and may vary amongst whānau, hapū, and iwi.

Dish requirements refer to any recipe or dish type made known to the candidate prior to assessment against this unit standard.

Assessment Task 1 – this task assesses ER 1.1

For this task you need to:

- identify kai and equipment required in terms of dish requirements, and
- in accordance with marae context and tikanga.

For this task you need to identify the kai and equipment you need to fry kai using two different frying methods (two separate dishes is probably easiest). These will be dictated by the dish requirements, which refer to any recipe or dish type made known to you prior to assessment, so use these (as well as your own thoughts) to help make a list.

Frying methods may include (but are not limited to) shallow fry, deep fry or stir fry. Remember, you need two different frying methods to achieve the standard.

You may use the following worksheets to present your evidence (you may also use additional paper if required).

Using photos is a good way to show what you have done, but please provide explanations for each photo to allow your kaiako/assessor to determine if you have provided enough of the right evidence. Video evidence is even better.

REMEMBER – You must present information in your own words, and all references must be provided.

Outcome 3 Present kai that has been fried in accordance with marae context and tikanga.
Assessment Task 4 –this task assesses ER 3.1 and 3.2
For this task you need to:

For this task ākonga need to present kai:

- in accordance with dish requirements
- in a manner acceptable to serve to manuhiri, and
- in accordance with marae context and tikanga.

They also need to demonstrate appropriate health, safety, and hygiene techniques at all times, and incorporate tikanga in the execution of all tasks.

For this task, ākonga should present the kai that they fried in the previous task.

Dish requirements may include (but are not limited to) portioning, basic garnishing, plating, simple accompaniments (see Guidance information above).

Ākonga must provide evidence of two different dish requirements.

Acceptable to serve to manuhiri includes (but is not limited to) presentation, temperature, cooked to required standard (eg rare, medium rare etc), and taste. If it:

- doesn't look good
- is cold when it should be hot (or hot when it should be cold etc)
- isn't cooked to the required standard (under-cooked, over-cooked), and
- doesn't taste good

then it is not good enough to serve to manuhiri.

Ākonga may use the worksheets in their ākonga book to present their evidence (they may use additional paper if required).

Using photos is a good way to demonstrate what they have done, but they will need to provide explanations for each photo, so that you can determine if they have provided enough of the right evidence. Video evidence is even better.

Note: The ākonga must present information in their own words and provide references. Where you have referred to a book, or website, or person, please acknowledge this in your lessons.
