He momo rākau whawhai – Te Taiaha

The taiaha is a long handled weapon or fighting staff usually made from wood. Because of its' shape it is sometimes mistakenly referred to as a spear.

The taiaha has a pointed end, the arero (tongue) which protrudes from the upoko (head), which then comes to the ate (liver) or tinana (body). It is used for stabbing, parrying and striking. Some taiaha were adorned with a collar of feathers or hair from a kurī. The purpose of the collar was both to add to the beauty of the weapon and to distract the wielder's opponent during battle.

The Akeake is a shrub or small tree, common in coastal and lowland forests and scrublands throughout the North Island, and as far south as Greymouth and Banks Peninsula in the South Island. Akeake is one of the hardest native woods. The centre of the trunk is black with streaks of white and the wood is very dense and heavy. Because of these properties, the Akeake is used to make weapons such as the taiaha.

Assessment criteria

There is ONE (1) assessment task that the ākonga must correctly complete to gain credits for this standard. Once the ākonga has correctly completed the task, the assessor must complete the assessment schedule for each ākonga.

Please remember that the focus is te taki!

Nō reira:

- the most effective activities for assessment will be those that are practical or performance based
- assessments can occur in a range of contexts, e.g. marae, school, classroom, practices or other learning contexts
- Mau Rākau grading can be used to assess Outcome 1 of this unit standard
- local mau rākau exponents and/or experts may be used to assess ākonga.

Ākonga assessment booklet

The ākonga receives this. It outlines important information for the ākonga including:

- assessment and other information
- assessment tasks.

Ākonga assessment tasks

These sheets and any other evidence should be collected by the Assessor and retained for assessment and moderation purposes.

Where ākonga choose to provide oral description/evidence for Task 1 (Outcome 1), this must be recorded or verified by a mau rākau exponent. Where ākonga work has been selected for moderation, the recording and/or letter of attestation must be included with the materials.

You will need to discuss with the ākonga the length of time they have to complete the assessment. He ture-a-kōnui: one credit equates to 10 notional hours of teaching and assessment.

Authenticity

As per NZQA requirements, the assessor must:

- verify that the work submitted for assessment has been produced by the ākonga
- consider (and manage) the potential for work to have been copied, borrowed from another ākonga, photocopied from a book or downloaded from the internet.

Ākonga may work with and learn from others to gather information from a variety of sources. However, you must be clear that the work to be assessed has been processed and produced by the ākonga.

To help manage authenticity of ākonga work, where the ākonga is asked to complete any written tasks, the ākonga is asked to use their own words as well as provide reference/s for their information. Please ensure you discuss this with your ākonga.
