For this sequence our facial expressions consisted of being more angry and or cheeky. In this set there wasn't a structure that occurred. I feel like the overall message of this dance was to have fun and be more confident in myself.

Sequence 3: [redacted] set [redacted]

This sequence fell under the genre of African fusion. This set is a mix of traditional African movements and street dance. The stylistic requirements of this dance really needed for us to be sharp. This dance caused me to bring out my inner sass and cheeky-ness. There wasn't any structure that has been shown in the set. Overall I feel like this dance helped us have a whole bunch of confidence in ourselves and have fun.
