	Grade Boundary: Low Excellence
1.	For Excellence, the student needs to waihangā tuhinga whai hua i te reo Māori o te ao whānui. This involves: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• ka kōtui i ngā whakaaro kia tika, kia whai take• ka whakamahi i ngā nuka reo kia whakapakepake, kia mau ai te hunga pānui• he autaia te tuhinga This student has produced an effective fictional account of a prison escape set during the New Zealand Wars. The student has produced writing that is controlled and holds the attention of the audience. The imaginary account is assured and the style is appropriate for a narrative tale. The student builds tension with a deliberate and controlled integration of the setting of the scene (1), action (2), dialogue (3) and a resolution (4). Language has been deliberately selected for its dramatic effect, e.g. whakamōti, and taurewa (5). The use of dialogue makes the character of Rewi come to life. The reaction of Rewi who initially turns down the offer of aid, and the use of kīwaha “kaua e ūpoko māro” (6) helps to paint a picture of his personality. For a more secure Excellence, the student could have included additional details such as the reason for the imprisonment. The use of additional language features such as metaphor or simile would paint a more detailed picture. An appropriate whakataukī might have added drama to the conclusion as the group disappear into the night (7).

I te urunga mai o te rā ka puta tētahi toa rangatira me ana ope taua i runga i ngā wāka ki Rēkohu. Anō nei, te whenua taurikura o ngā mātua tūpuna. Ka tonoa rātou e te kuia o Rewi ki te wewete i a Rewi me āna hikuhiku mai i te mauhere o te Kawanatanga o Ingarangi.

He tino kaikōhuru tētahi o ngā toa. Ko ia anake te mōrehu mai i te pakanga o ngā Pākehā me ngā iwi o Taranaki. Koinei te take i whakawhiwhia e ia te ingoa Ko Te-Orangatonu-o-te-rangi.

Ka tae atu te ope taua ki te whare herehere, i piki atu rātou i ngā pare. I kōhuru rātou i ngā kaitiaki o te papa taumata, kātahi ka rere iho rātou mā ngā kaupae ki ngā papa o raro, o te whare herehere. I taua wā ka tīrara e rātou i ngā kauhanga kia rapuhia i ngā kī mō ngā herehere.

②

Ka taka te wā ka tīrara e rātou i ngā kauhanga kia rapuhia i ngā kī mō ngā herehere. Ka taka te wā, ka rapuhia te rangatira i ngā kī, me a Rewi, “Kāore au e hiahia ana i tō awhi” e kīa ana e Rewi. “Kaua e ūpoko māro”, te whakahoki o te toa. I whakamutu rāua i te kōrero. Kātahi ka kī a Rewi “Pai, engari ka tae atu tātou ki te tuawhenua, ka wehe mātou aku hikuhiku, nē?” “Aē!”

③

⑥

③

I ārahi te rangatira i a Rewi me ana hikuhiku mā ngā kauhanga me ngā kaupae. E toru ngā kaikōhuru ka tonoa e te rangatira hei kōkirikiri kia whakamōti i te toenga o ngā kaitiaki. Whakamōti kau anō ngā kaitiaki ka haere tonu ngā taurewa ki te papa taumata. I whakahoki rātou ki ngā waka, ā, i hoea ngā waka i roto i te pō.

	Grade Boundary: High Merit
2.	For Merit, the student needs to waihanga tuhinga whai kiko i te reo Māori o te ao whānui. This involves: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• ka honohono i ngā whakaaro• ka āta whakamahi i ngā nuka reo kia tika te whakatakoto• ka whakamahi i ngā kupu me ngā momo rerenga kōrero kia mārama kehokeho, ka whakawhere te tuhinga ki te hunga pānui. This student has produced a letter to the Prime Minister about the need for improving heating in state houses that is clear and convincing. The letter is well structured, opening with a vivid description of a damp house and its potential health dangers for families (1). A solution is suggested (2) and the letter concludes with language that has been carefully selected to support the persuasive intent of the writer. For example, if the matter is not resolved, it will result in death (3). There is a controlled use of language features to support the persuasive intent of the writing. For example, the use of kīwhaha to strongly react to a government statement about state houses (4). The reaction is further strengthened with the use of a negative 'e kore au e whakaae...' (5). To reach Excellence, the student could provide more supporting evidence. While strong emotional statements are made and explained, supporting data would strengthen the point of view.
