Paul Gauguin and other painters have been exhibiting since 1889 and worked in a full-time artist since 1893. Gauguin was the founder of the 1900s and the original French painter. Some of his early work before he changed was associated with his production techniques. Gauguin by an artist studying what the school says and people at university.

While most of Paul Gauguin's work has been specific to Tahiti, his work has always been deeply personal and his love for the island. Gauguin's work is often seen as a mix of the traditional and the modern. He was a pioneer in the use of color and his work has been a major influence on the development of modern art.
